DEAR FRIENDS,

On behalf of the Board of Directors of Pittsburgh Opera, we welcome you to the Benedum Center to experience the delightful tale of Hansel & Gretel.

Pittsburgh Opera’s 80th season marks the official start of our anniversary campaign. Our goal is to raise $50 million over the next five years to support Pittsburgh Opera—one of America’s oldest and leading opera companies, and, of course, one of our region’s cultural icons. The 80th Anniversary Campaign, “Forever,” will focus on three cornerstones: Art—changing lives through the power of voice; Community—celebrating human connectedness; and Resilience—preparing for change. Building upon these strengths will make Pittsburgh Opera a model of entrepreneurship and inclusion among opera companies across the country.

You, as an integral part of the Opera Community, are vitally important to our success. The talent you hear and see on stage, the nationally-recognized caliber of our Resident Artist program, the educational engagement in our region’s schools, and the assurance that all we do at Pittsburgh Opera will continue for another generation depends upon you and your financial support. If you are a contributor already, thank you. We look forward to your continued support and hope that you will find a way to increase your giving. If you have not yet made a gift to Pittsburgh Opera, we invite you to do so today and become a part of making the magic of this art form possible.

Pittsburgh Opera needs you to sustain our enviable record of excellence, authenticity, and passion, which your philanthropic support makes possible. The end of the calendar year marks an auspicious opportunity to assist in this effort, as you make charitable decisions regarding the 2018 tax year. For example, a charitable gift from an IRA distribution, for some, may be a perfect opportunity to show your commitment to Pittsburgh Opera. You may also wish to consider how you can create a legacy at the Opera through including us in your estate plans. Our Director of Development, Michael Braxton, welcomes the chance to speak with you about how you can support the future of Pittsburgh Opera. Please call him at (412) 281-0912 ext. 259 or email him at mbraxton@pittsburghopera.org.

In the meantime, we hope that you enjoy Hansel & Gretel and look forward to seeing you again at our next production.

LETTER FROM OUR GENERAL DIRECTOR

DEAR FRIENDS,

Welcome back to the Benedum! You are in for a real treat today with Hansel & Gretel!

These performances are something of a milestone for Pittsburgh Opera’s mainstage productions. For the first time, our entire cast is comprised of former and current Pittsburgh Opera Resident Artists. As many of you know, our Resident Artist program is one of the premier young singer programs in North America. Each year, we receive over 500 applications for just a handful of openings. These talented singers often go on to sing at the world’s greatest opera houses and have stellar careers.

Tonight, our cast ranges from one of our very first Resident Artists (Pittsburgh legend Marianne Cornetti, singing the role of the “Witch”, participated in the program 1988-89) to two of our current ones (second-year soprano Ashley Fabian, in the role of “Gretel,” and first-year soprano Caitlin Gotimer as the “Sandman/Dew Fairy”). In addition, Craig Verm (“Father”, 2003-05), Corrie Stallings (“Hansel”, 2014-16), and Leah Heater (“Mother”, 2016-18) are all wonderful examples of our Resident Artist Program’s success.

This winter, our Resident Artists will continue to shine. The production, afterWARds, a reimagining of Mozart’s rarely-heard classic Idomeneo, stars a quartet of our current Resident Artists. This never-before-seen production will be at Pittsburgh’s CAPA Theater January 26 -February 3. A few weeks later, we open the powerful Glory Denied at the George R. White Opera Studio in our headquarters building in the Strip District. Based on the gripping true story of Colonel Jim Thompson, the longest-held POW in US military history, Glory Denied is simultaneously contemporary and timeless.

We hope you will join us for those performances, as well as for La bohème and Don Pasquale next spring back in the Benedum. If you don’t yet have season tickets, partial-season plans are still available. Subscriptions start at just $47; apply tonight’s ticket toward one and access exclusive benefits. Please visit the table in the center of the Grand Lobby for details.

Warm regards,

CHRISTOPHER HAHN

SYNOPSIS

HANSEL & GRETEL

ACT I.
In the house of a broom-maker deep in a German forest, Hansel and Gretel have been left by their parents, who are off in town. The children are supposed to be at work, making socks and brooms; instead, Gretel recites a nursery rhyme, which Hansel interrupts with complaints of hunger. Gretel teases her brother, calling him a complaining grump. She shows him a pitcher of milk hidden in the cupboard that their mother is saving for supper. To entertain her brother, Gretel teaches Hansel a folk dance. Suddenly Gertrude, their mother, comes home and angrily reproves them for playing when they should have been working. In her anger, the mother knocks over the pitcher of milk. When Hansel is caught grinning at this misfortune, his mother chases him out of the house and sends Gretel after him into the woods to find wild strawberries. The mother falls asleep just as the voice of her husband Peter is heard singing in the distance. Slightly tipsy when he arrives, he surprises Gertrude with all the food he has bought and tells her that he sold his brooms to a wedding party for the best price he has ever received. They celebrate their good fortune with a toast and he then asks where the children are. When Gertrude tells him that they have gone to the woods, he is horrified. He tells her about the Witch who lives there and who bakes children into bread. The two rush off to find Hansel and Gretel.

ACT II.
In a forest glade, Gretel sings another nursery rhyme and then begins making a wreath of wild flowers. Hansel picks the last of the wild strawberries. He offers his basket to Gretel, who eats one; as they start to leave, a cuckoo calls, and the children parrot the bird’s call, eating strawberries all the while. As darkness falls, they realize they cannot refill the basket, and worse, that they are lost. Their fears multiply as they see visions of wild animals behind every tree. An old man appears, scattering gold sand and promising restful sleep. When the Sandman leaves, the two children kneel to say their prayers and quickly fall asleep. In their dream, Hansel and Gretel are surrounded by a host of children, who seem to have a message for them.

ACT III.
The Dew Fairy brings morning to the world of the forest. The children awake and find themselves still in the forest. They happen upon a magical house, filled with cakes and sweets. When Hansel breaks a piece off from the gingerbread house, they hear a voice from somewhere inside the dwelling. An old lady comes out and offers the children desserts of all kinds; when the children refuse her temptations, she puts a spell on them.

and locks Hansel in a cage. Gretel is released from the spell to help set the Witch’s table. Gretel has overheard the Witch’s plan to bake her, and while the Witch feeds Hansel to fatten him up, Gretel whispers the Witch’s magic words, which break the spell on Hansel. Hungry for Gretel, the Witch calls her to the oven. Gretel cleverly asks the Witch to show her how to make the oven work. As the Witch leans in, Hansel and Gretel push her in and slam the door. The oven gets hotter and hotter until it explodes. Suddenly, the room is filled with other children. Hansel recites the Witch’s spell and the children spring to life. As Peter and Gertrude rush in and embrace their children, a gingerbread cake of the Witch is found in the oven. Before eating, all join in giving thanks for their deliverance.

I remember a time when I was shocked to read the original Grimm fairy tales. I had grown up not knowing how dark the stories really were. They illuminated societal issues, such as famine, that plagued Europe in the 18th century. Today we see them as fairy tales fit for children. What makes Engelbert Humperdinck’s operatic adaptation of Hansel and Gretel fascinating are the liberties taken with the original story to create an interesting mixture of light and dark themes to affect both adults and children.

Musically, Humperdinck draws parallels and plays with textures in order for the children’s journey to have purpose and meaning in their world as it contrasts with the adult world. In the opera’s opening moments, Hansel and his sister Gretel fight and play, sometimes simultaneously, out of boredom and, of course, hunger. The dance music allows us to get into their world; it is one of folly and little concern despite their parents’ desperate situation. In fact, it isn’t until Mother comes in that we see the intensity of her parenting, which is based on fear and yelling. Again, as in the original Grimm story, the desperate situation is what drives Mother’s harsh nature. Father enters the scene bringing home a feast and the couple dances to music. It is no accident that later we will recognize that music when the witch sings of her baking prowess.

Hansel and Gretel enter the forest and veer too far off the familiar path. Unlike in the Grimm story, the children do not leave a trail of breadcrumbs to find their way home. Somehow the reckless wandering makes the situation feel more dangerous. Musical textures once again illustrate the atmosphere. There is a cuckoo bird and other eerie sounds. Hansel, being the annoying brother who capitalizes on Gretel’s fear, responds to the musical textures by making up a story to terrify his little sister. Inevitably, Hansel gets spooked, too, once he realizes they are lost.

The witch’s appearance in the opera is the most anticipated moment. We all know what will happen based on our knowledge of the original story, but it is a joyous surprise to experience new ideas presented by the libretto. One big example is the magical power that the witch possesses. The magic is introduced by a wand that forces the children to obey. It allows for a musical theatricality that results in whimsical artistic choices and plain fun.

There are touches, however, that are our own in this particular production for Pittsburgh Opera. The claustrophobic nature of home life is expanded once the children venture into the great outdoors. The lovely addition of animals who act as protection for the children as they sleep is one of my favorite moments, again, adding to the fantastical and light nature of the story, balancing the darkness.

The most obvious component that makes the opera stand apart from the Brothers Grimm story is the addition of children who have been imprisoned by the witch over what seems to be many years. Hansel and Gretel’s courage to destroy the witch releases a group of children from their gingerbread bodies, having been baked by the witch for her eventual dessert. Much like an angel chorus, Humperdinck writes innocent sounding lines in which they beg, and later thank, Hansel and Gretel for release. Perhaps it is through the witch’s demise that Humperdinck wishes to vanquish evil and poverty from the world of the Grimm Brothers. Perhaps he believes that children can restore order.

“What makes Engelbert Humperdinck’s operatic adaptation of Hansel and Gretel fascinating are the liberties taken with the original story to create an interesting mixture of light and dark themes to affect both adults and children.”

Marianne Cornetti has been bewitching opera audiences for years. She is internationally-recognized as one of the leading Verdi mezzo-sopranos of her generation. Her multi-faceted talents extend beyond the stage—all the way to the oven (before she gets pushed in by Hansel and Gretel, of course). Please enjoy her gingerbread recipe and visit her website at www.mariannecornetti.com!

GINGERBREAD

- 12 oz. Unsalted butter
- 1.5 cups Light brown sugar
- 1.5 cups Dark molasses
- Beat in 4 eggs

Sift

- 5 cups Flour
- 2 tsp. Cinnamon
- 2 tsp. Ginger
- 1 tsp. Nutmeg

Add 3 tsp. Baking soda to 1 cup water. Then add and stir all ingredients together. After all ingredients are mixed well, add 1 cup Orange Juice.

Bake at 350 degrees for 35-45 minutes. Let cool.

SAUCE FOR GINGERBREAD

- 2 lbs. lightly salted butter
- 7 cups Dark brown sugar
- 2 Quarts of cream

Melt butter. Add sugar and let dissolve. Add cream. Bring to a boil. Then allow to cool. Pour over the gingerbread as each piece is sliced.
Germany follows the metric system, convert all the recipe’s measurements from imperial (or legacy) unit measurements used in the United States to metric units, including the oven baking temperature.

GEography:
Create a map of Germany that details the geographical regions, marking important locations, such as the Harz Mountains, Weimar, Berlin, and Ilselfeld. Calculate the latitude and longitude of each location.

HEALTH, SAFETY, AND PHYSICAL EDUCATION:
How long would it take for children like Hansel and Gretel to starve in the woods? How long can humans survive without food, water, or shelter?

HISTORY:
Explore the role of Grimms’ Fairy Tales in the German political unification in the 19th century. Are there similar fairy tales in other cultures? How does culture affect the telling of a fairy tale?

MATHematics:
How might a search party systematically begin to find the lost Hansel and Gretel? Create a scaled perimeter map, indicating direction and distances, for the search area surrounding Hansel and Gretel’s cottage. Consider how far children can walk in one day.

SCIENCE AND TECHNOLOGY AND ENGINEERING EDUCATION:
Hansel places rocks on the ground that reflect moonlight so the children can find their way home. What types of rocks reflect light? Design a science experiment that illustrates properties of reflection.

WORLD LANGUAGES:
Read a scene from Hansel and Gretel in the original German, and compare it to English. Identify the cognates.

ARTS AND HUMANITIES:
The banda in Hansel and Gretel calls for a cuckoo. Why did Humperdinck choose this sound effect? What does it represent? Who plays the cuckoo during a performance?

BUSINESS, COMPUTER, AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY:
If you were lost, what technology, devices, or apps would work in the woods to help you find your way? If not, how would you find your way out?

CAREER EDUCATION AND WORK:
The witch is pushed into a giant brick oven in Hansel and Gretel. Describe what brick ovens look like and make a model. Where are brick ovens used today?

CIVICS AND GOVERNMENT:
Technically, Hansel and Gretel are trespassing when they begin to eat the witch’s house. What are the laws in your community regarding trespassing?

DRIVER EDUCATION:
Germany and Pennsylvania have similar climates, so drivers in both countries encounter hazardous conditions such as ice and snow. What are some strategies for operating a vehicle when visiting the Ilselfeld Mountain in winter?

ECONOMICS:
If Peter had not been able to sell his brooms to the wedding party, money would have been scarce. What is economic scarcity? What would be wise choices for spending extra money?

ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS:

OBSTRUCTED VISION
Supertitles, the English texts projected above the stage, will be fully visible to most Benedum patrons. However, supertitles will not be visible to anyone seated in row W (center) or the side sections of rows V-Z on the Main Floor. By necessary placement of the screen, the architecture of the Benedum precludes visibility in these areas.

CHECK ROOMS
Attended check rooms located on the Gallery and Promenade levels are open during the winter months. Coin-operated lockers are located on the Promenade and Mezzanine levels.

EMERGENCY INFORMATION
This theater is equipped with an Automated External Defibrillator.

STAGE AREA
Limited to performers, staff, and authorized visitors.

RESTROOMS
Lounges for ladies and gentlemen are located on the Gallery, Promenade, and Mezzanine levels. Restrooms for patrons with physical disabilities are located on the Grand Lobby level.

TICKET SERVICES AND BOX OFFICE HOURS
Tickets to all performances may be purchased at the Box Office at Theater Square, Penn Avenue, between Sixth and Seventh Streets. Hours of operation are Monday - Saturday, 9:00 AM - 6:00 PM; Sunday, 12:00 - 6:00 PM. In conjunction, the Benedum Center and Byham Theater box offices will be open on performance days, two hours before curtain time, through intermission.

INFORMATION AND TICKET CHARGE NUMBER
MasterCard, Visa, Discover, and American Express are accepted. Ticket Charge operates Monday - Friday, 9:00 AM-6:00 PM, and Saturday and Sunday, 12:00-4:00 PM. Orders received fewer than 5 days in advance will be held for pickup at the Box Office. A $3.50 charge per ticket will be made on phone orders. Call 412-456-6666 for tickets or Benedum Center show information. All sales are final.

AUDIO COMMENTARY
Pittsburgh Opera offers an Audio Commentary service for patrons with visual impairments during Tuesday performances at the Benedum Center. Through Channel 2 on the Assistive Listening Devices, patrons can hear the supertitles read simultaneously with their appearances on the screen, as well as descriptions of the set, characters, and costumes. Pittsburgh Opera also offers Braille and large-print programs. Inquire at the Education table and Guest Services Center.
